Health Sector for the Voice

As leaders in health throughout Victoria, we declare our support for the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Voice.

80% of health workers believe the Voice will improve health outcomes.

Every day, we see the benefits from involving Aboriginal people in decisions about their health.

By listening to Aboriginal people, we will create healthy, thriving communities together.

The Voice is a chance to gain 60,000 years of wisdom to advance how we care for all people in Australia.

We hope Australia votes Yes.
